

SEN. NIXON IS INFORMED OF HIS ELECTION

Governor Oddie transmitted the following telegram to Senator Nixon just after signing the latter's commission:

"Carson City, Jan. 15, 1911.
"Senator George S. Nixon, U. S. Senate, Washington, D. C.

"Have just signed your commission as United States senator, immediately following the joint session of the two houses of the legislature by which you were unanimously chosen to succeed yourself, and which has given me more pleasure than any other official act since I have been governor. Accept my heartiest congratulations and good wishes for your health and happiness and the hope that your future career will continue as splendid and useful to the people of this state as its past has been.

"TASKER L. ODDIE."

Senator Nixon replied with the following message:

"Washington, D. C., Jan. 26, 1911.
"Tasker L. Oddie, Governor, Carson City, Nevada.

"Your telegram informing me that you have signed and forwarded my certificate of re-election and added congratulations give me much pleasure. We both owe much to the people of the state of Nevada, and I am confident that no two men were ever more ambitious to honorably discharge the debt by loyal official acts than her present governor and junior United States senator.

"GEORGE S. NIXON."

CHILD DISPLAYED GREAT COURAGE

After receiving a fractured thigh while coasting down a steep hill near Austin, last Tuesday, Ardella Holman, aged 6 years, crawled about fifty feet before she would give any signs of the accident. She was then suffering such great pain and fainted. She was coasting down the hill at quite a rapid rate when the sled crashed into a post at the side of the course and her broken thigh resulted. She stated that she did not want to show she was hurt because she was afraid she couldn't have the birthday party she had planned for the next day.—Virginia Enterprise.

MAIL SERVICE CHANGED.

The postal department has made an order canceling the contract for carrying the mail between Palsade and Eureka and will have the mail sent by way of Cobre to Ely, thence to Eureka by stage, which would bring letters into Eureka twenty-four hours later than by the present schedule. The people of Eureka are endeavoring to have the old route maintained.

ARZULLA

At the Nevada Tuesday Night.

Can the dead speak to us from beyond the grave? The occurrences of the past few weeks reported in newspapers and magazines regarding the work of Arzulla, who now lies in psychic trance in the show window of the Miners' Drug store, have shown that numbers of persons are disposed to answer this question in the affirmative, and there seems to be abundant proof that Arzulla does really hold converse with the spirits of the long departed. From the dawn of human history there have always been a few rare spirits who possessed transcendental powers, whose bodies were mere translucent veils unable to restrain the eager soul within. Unlike ordinary mortals in whom mind and body wage an almost equal warfare for supremacy, these spirits are bound to earth by so frail a thread that they can leave the body at will, or the mind may be projected to the uttermost parts of the world and still use the body as a means of expression. Science is only beginning to grasp feebly at these mysterious functions which are the heritage of us all, but which lie dormant in all but a few.

When Arzulla is awakened on the stage of the Nevada theater tomorrow night, her performance, it is expected will create a profound sensation. In addition to her mysterious work, the strange Alburts will create no end of fun and excitement in his hypnotic and occult work. Beside the two stars there will be vaudeville specialties. It is known that this company attracts very large audiences and those who expect to get a good seat should make reservations in advance at the Miners' Drug store. Notwithstanding the importance of the attraction, the prices are the lowest that has ever obtained at the Nevada theater.

STATE BANKING LAW ATTACKED

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF MEASURE TO BE QUESTIONED IN HABEAS CORPUS.

That the constitutionality of the existing state banking law would in all probability be brought into question before the district court here, as a part of the measures to resist the removal of O. J. Smith to Eureka county, was charged by the attorneys for Eureka county Saturday and tacitly admitted by counsel for the petitioner, in the hearing before Judge Moran. A further delay in the proceedings of one week was granted by the court in order to give petitioner's counsel time to file a traverse to the amended return on the writ.

The protests of the counsel for the state over the granting of a week to prepare the traverse were unavailing. Both Attorney Lewers and District Attorney McParlin argued that the time of the court was being taken up with a matter that doubtless would go before the supreme court in the district court in Eureka before that.

Judge Glynn, however, contended that when the liberty and constitutional right of a citizen were at stake, time was not to be considered, and he further declared that the other side had taken all the text books on habeas corpus out of the state library in Carson and it was necessary for him to send to San Francisco for authorities.

The hearing Saturday was one to give the petitioner an opportunity to further object to the return as amended, and if no objections were made to fix a time for traverse. No objections to the amended return which could not be set up in the traverse were offered, but when counsel asked until next Saturday to file the traverse the protest was made.—Reno Journal.

RAILROADS ARE BUTTING THE STORMS

The railroad situation in Nevada as a result of recent storms is moderating considerably, although much inconvenience is still felt by the smaller roads owing to snow.

The Southern Pacific is now running trains on a regular schedule, the Ringdon tunnel being cleared out, and the Western Pacific is moving trains regularly.

It is reported that the N. C. O. will not be able to resume traffic until some time this week, and the Boca & Loyalton is completely tied up until the first of the month. Clark line trains will be run over the Southern Pacific for several days owing to the floods in the Meadow Valley, Wash.

STAMP MILL TO BE BUILT AT MILLETT

The Nevada National Mining company, operating property at Millett, down Smoky valley, near Round Mountain, has decided to erect a milling plant. The first unit will consist of five stamps. The material and machinery have been bought and will be delivered via Austin.

Messrs. J. A. Bevan and L. L. Bevan have arrived from Allentown, Pa., and have gone to the mine to make preliminary preparations for the installing of the milling plant and will increase the working force at the mine. The plant will be erected about four miles from the Millett store and will be in operation by May 1. It will be equipped with stamps, crushers and a concentration system.

The gentlemen in charge state that they hope to be able to handle a considerable tonnage of custom ore. They propose to carry out a policy that will result in the advancement of the entire interests of the district.

N. Paulsen is general manager for the company, and has a number of mining propositions under his direction, including the Peterson mine at Gold Park. He will be relieved of some of the strenuousness of his program by Mr. Bevan.—Reno River Reville.
